The European Institute of Women's Health (EIWH) invites its members, friends and colleagues to join us in recognition of World Mental Health Day to highlight mental health issues that women and their families across Europe encounter. This year the theme for the day is "Depression: A Global Crisis," a health issue that largely impacts women's health.

To see the Press Release please click here.